

F1 Orchid

The Orchid model is great for those of us who want things like weather forecasts and radar, whether we're an outdoorsman, contractor, farmer, or even just want to plan that family picnic next week. With the addition of the Navigation service, powered by HERE, the Orchid can help you find where you're going. And who doesn't want to look up an address every once in a while, or need a little bit of guidance finding our destination?

Active outdoors

Sometimes it's nice to know what the day (or week) has in store. Our Weather service (powered by The Weather Company) lets you see what is on the horizon. With the optional weather radar screen, you'll know when to take cover.

Adventurous

For those of us who are out and about and need help finding our way, the navigation service might be just the ticket. And if you've wandered too far for cellular coverage, being able to use offline mapping and routing means that the Orchid can still help you find your destination.

In touch

With the extremely accurate optional Voice-to-Text dictation service powered by Microsoft, texting on a flip phone can be an awesome experience. While it's rather small, you might like trying the full QWERTY keyboard on the touchscreen too.

Security conscious

The SOS function on the Orchid allows you to signal for help quickly, which can be useful for children or the elderly.

Orchid features

The Orchid model provides you with the great flip-phone format that you know and love, full of features that you expect, such as large easy-to-use buttons, simple and effective menu system, and good speaker volume. But it also adds some advanced features too, such as touchscreen, flashlight, Navigation, and Weather Radar.
